Atelier 4 Acquires New Miami Facility Leading Art Logistics Company Expands Capacity in Region by 300%

New York, NY – TKTK, 2019 – Art logistics company Atelier 4 announced today its move to a larger facility for its Miami operations, effective April 1, 2019. Located at 2170 Northwest 87th Street, in Doral, Florida near Miami International Airport, the new 20,000 square-foot location will triple its storage and service capacities in the greater Miami area.

To meet the exacting storage and safety standards of Atelier 4, the new space comes fully climate-controlled with fireproof construction and backup generators. The larger space will feature two interior loading positions, a crate construction shop, and a viewing room for clients—two amenities that were lacking in its former facility located nearby at 1927 Northwest 79th Avenue.

“This expanded facility will allow us to bring an even greater level of service while meeting the increased demands not only within Miami, but throughout the East Coast,” explains Atelier 4 CEO Jonathan Schwartz. “Over the last twenty years, the Miami art community has expanded far beyond from simply a home to a major art fair into a global contemporary art capital, with numerous new galleries, institutions, and collectors,” he adds.

Michael Thompson, former owner of Norton Fine Art (San Rafael, CA), will lead the facility as Branch Manager.
