UNTITLED, ART

Announces Exhibitor List, Expanded Ambassadors Committee, New Partnerships, and Writer in Residence, for the Fourth Edition of UNTITLED, ART San Francisco

UNTITLED, ART is pleased to announce the nearly 60 international galleries and nonprofit arts organizations, from 12 countries and more than 20 cities, participating in the fourth edition of UNTITLED, ART San Francisco. Taking place from January 17–19, 2020, at San Francisco’s historic Pier 35 on The Embarcadero, the fair will feature presentations by leading contemporary artists as well as influential figures from the 20th century.

UNTITLED, ART San Francisco has expanded its Ambassadors Committee for the 2020 edition, adding 23 new individuals and couples, as the fair’s engagement with the art world continues to grow across the Bay Area. New strategic partnerships include a $10,000 booth prize sponsored by eBay, a special new commission presented by the Facebook Art Department, and an Artist Emergency Fund established by &Art& and supported by UNTITLED, ART. Additionally, New York–based art writer Brian Boucher will inaugurate the UNTITLED, ART San Francisco edition of the Writer in Residence program, publishing daily dispatches on highlights at the fair and around San Francisco.

“The fourth edition of UNTITLED, ART San Francisco truly embodies the spirit of San Francisco,” said Executive Director, Manuela Mozo. “As a city known for its ethos of innovation and entrepreneurship, set against the backdrop of important social and cultural legacies, this edition of the fair brings together younger artists creating work in diverse media and speaking to a range of contemporary issues, paired with historically important artists who were harbingers of change and new ideas in the 20th century.”

EXHIBITOR HIGHLIGHTS

UNTITLED, ART San Francisco 2020 has been curated to complement collecting interests on the West Coast as well as current and upcoming museum exhibitions in the Bay Area. The following are selected highlights: Michael Rosenfeld Gallery, New York, will present a curated collection of artists included in the seminal exhibition Soul of a Nation: Art in the Age of Black Power, currently on view at the de Young Museum. Chambers Fine Art, Beijing and New York, will present new works by artists such as Wu Jian’an, Song Hongquan, and photographer Pixy Liao. In addition, Rena Bransten Gallery, San Francisco, will partner with Chicago’s Stephen Daiter Gallery for a presentation that will include photographs by Dawoud Bey, ahead of his retrospective at the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art, opening in February 2020.

The fourth edition of UNTITLED, ART San Francisco will be the most international yet, with galleries hailing from such cities as Amsterdam, Barcelona, Luxembourg, Madrid, Moscow, Milan, Taipei, and Turku. Rutger Brandt Gallery joins the fair from Amsterdam, presenting works by photo-realist painter Yigal Ozeri. Several galleries from the Los Angeles area will return to the fair with solo presentations, including Night Gallery, presenting new work by the artist JPW3 (aka John Patrick Walsh III), and Moskowitz Bayse, with a body of work that includes photographs, drawings, and video by Los Angeles-based artist Christopher Richmond. Royale Projects will feature a presentation on abstraction with artists from different generations, including Clinton Hill alongside popular contemporary Bay Area artist Heather Day.
