DESIGN IN DIALOGUE – Episode 2. Chris Schanck

Friedman Benda announces Design in Dialogue, a series of online interviews hosted by curator and historian Glenn Adamson. Join leading voices from the field—designers, makers, critics, and curators—as they discuss their work and ideas.

Conversations are held on Zoom for 45 minutes + 15 minutes participatory Q&A, beginning at 11am Eastern Standard Time.

This Wednesday April 8th, tune in to hear from Chris Schanck, live from his innovative and collaborative Detroit studio. Join us via computer here, or dial in via phone (you can find your local number here).

Zoom Member ID: 309 460 195

Password: 616333

For the duration of the present coronavirus lockdown—beginning on Monday April 13th, Design in Dialogue will convene three times a week on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

Future guests will include:

- Monday, April 13th: Zoë Ryan, John H. Bryan Chair & Curator of Architecture & Design, The Art Institute of Chicago
- Wednesday, April 15th: Faye Toogood
- Friday, April 17th: Humberto Campana

More guests to come as we are currently building a program that will hopefully be as engaging to the audience as it is exciting for us. Post-quarantine, the gallery will continue the Design in Dialogue platform. We will post updates for this series on Instagram @friedman\_benda.
