

MEGAN FOX KELLY

ART ADVISORY

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Reading the Art World with Megan Fox Kelly Podcast

Now Available on All Major Streaming Services

New York, NY – October 18, 2021 - Megan Fox Kelly Art Advisory is pleased to announce the launch of its podcast episodes of Reading the Art World, now available on all major podcast platforms including Apple and Spotify. Reading the Art World features interviews between Megan Fox Kelly and authors of both recently released and upcoming art-centric books. The conversations explore new art historical books and timely subjects in the art world, typically based on artists, current issues, and market trends.

“Insightful writing on artists, exhibitions, museums and the art market have always informed my advisory work with clients. The art books I read and collect help me engage on a more personal level with art and keep up with current thinking about the field. The authors of many of these books are often under-recognized for the contributions they make to forming opinions, examining, and validating artists’ work, and also providing scholarly utility. It’s a pleasure to launch this series and make it more broadly available via podcast platforms,” Kelly states.

Episodes of Reading the Art World include interviews with collector Tiqui Atencio Demirdjian, author of For Art's Sake: Inside the Home of Art Dealers (Rizzoli, October 2020); curator and Commissioning Editor of Phaidon Press' Contemporary Artists series Michele Robecchi; and veteran arts journalist and author Georgina Adam, author of The Rise and Rise of the Private Art Museums (Lund Humphries, September 2021). The next episode, airing in November 2021 will feature art market columnist Melanie Gerlis, author of The Art Fair Story: A Roller Coaster Ride (Lund Humphries, December 2021).
